K.A.R. 105-5-2, K.A.R.105-5-3, K.A.R. 105-5-6, K.A.R. 105-5-7, K.A.R. 105-5-8 establish the hourly rate to be paid to the private attorneys who accept court appointments to defend indigent persons in the absence of a public defender. The rate to be paid to assigned counsel is increased from $70 per hour to $75 per hour and each of the "caps" for the severity level of the charge is similarly increased from the "cap" at $70 per hour to the "cap" at $75 per hour. These amendments reflect action taken by the Board under its statutory authority to adjust the rate of compensation to more closely approach the rate set by statute of $80 per hour.

K.A.R. 105-11-1, incorporates by reference the "Attorney Cost Reimbursement Tables: Assigned Counsel and Public Defender". This table lists the average actual cost to the agency for attorney costs on each level of felony.

Economic Impact.

The Board anticipates that the continued proration of the assigned counsel hourly rate down from $80/hour to $75/hour will save $680,000 to the state general fund.

105-5-2. Rates of compensation. (a) Each assigned counsel shall be compensated at the rate of $76 ~~$75~~ per hour.

(b) Contract counsel shall be compensated at the rate or rates specified in the contract between the board and the assigned counsel. I. Brief description of the proposed rule(s) and regulation(s).

These regulations state the hourly compensation rate for assigned counsel and the reasonable compensation amount based on the severity level of the felony and whether it was a trial or a plea. The court may allow a higher amount for cases found to be exceptional.

II. Statement by the agency if the rule(s) and regulation(s) is mandated by the federal government and a statement if approach chosen to address the policy issue is different from that utilized by agencies of contiguous states or the federal government. (If the approach is different, then include a statement of why the Kansas rule and regulation proposed is different)

The approach chosen to address indigents' defense policy issues is different in each of the contiguous states. Nebraska provides for indigents' defense through the county rather than a state system.

Like Kansas, Oklahoma provides for indigent defense through public defenders, contract attorney's and volunteer appointed counsel. However, the executive director of Oklahoma indigents' defense has the statutory authority to establish the reasonable hourly rates of compensation for appointed attorneys, subject to approval by the board. Additionally, attorney compensation for work that was not performed under contract cannot exceed $3,500 unless the executive director determines that the case is exceptional due to the length of time that was required to complete the case.

Colorado provides for indigents defense through public defenders and alternate defense counsel. The alternate defense counsel compensation rate is set by Chief Justice Directive and relates to the severity level of the charges. The defense of a homicide or rape is paid $85 per hour. All other felonies are paid $80 per hour.

Missouri provides for indigents' defense through statewide public defenders, who defend about 90% of the cases and through contract counsel who provide for the defense of about 10% of the cases on a flat fee per case depending on the severity level of the case and depending on whether the case is completed by trial or by plea.

The federal government provides a system for the provision of indigent defense through public defenders and through the appointment of private attorneys who are compensated at the rate of $140 per hour currently with an annual increase to match the salary increase provided to public defenders that year. This is established by federal regulation.

These Kansas regulations are not mandated by the federal government.

III. Agency analysis specifically addressing following:

A. The extent to which the rule(s) and regulation(s) will enhance or restrict business activities and growth;

These regulations will enhance the economic growth of over four hundred assigned counsel law firms. These regulations will allow for local attorneys to accept assigned cases thus ensuring the provision of the right to counsel through local attorneys rather than attorneys from other judicial districts.

B. The economic effect, including a detailed quantification of implementation and compliance costs, on the specific businesses, sectors, public utility ratepayers, individuals, and local governments that would be affected by the proposed rule and regulation and on the state economy as a whole;

These regulations will effect an increase in the hourly rate set by the Board for assigned counsel fees from $70 per hour to $75 per hour but maintain a decrease from the statutory rate of $80 per hour. There will be an added cost of $850,000 to the state but effects the same amount of reduction from the payment of the statutory rate. These regulations also increase the amount of repayment that the court can require a defendant to repay the state general fund - currently 1.4 M

C. Businesses that would be directly affected by the proposed rule and regulation;

Law firms that accept court appointment to felony cases.

D. Benefits of the proposed rule(s) and regulation(s) compared to the costs;

The regulations will increase the number of attorneys accepting appointed cases and will enhance the quality of the defense provided as required by the Sixth Amendment

E. Measures taken by the agency to minimize the cost and impact of the proposed rule(s) and regulation(s) on business and economic development within the State of Kansas, local government, and individuals;

On January 18, 2010, the Board responded to mid-fiscal year budget reductions by reducing the hourly rate paid to assigned counsel from $80 per hour as set by statute to $62 per hour as the lowest possible hourly rate without effecting a taking of property without due process of law. At that time, the Board assured assigned counsel that it would restore the statutory rate of $80 per hour when the state finances were in better circumstances.

On July 1, 2015, the Board increased the hourly rate to $65 per hour and on July 1, 2016, the Board increased the hourly rate to $70 per hour. The increase on July 1, 2018 to $75 per hour is still $5 per hour below the statutory rate which was established by the legislature twelve years ago in 2006.

Do the above total implementation and compliance costs exceed $3.0 million over any two-year period?

YES 0 NO

Give a detailed statement of the data and methodology used in estimating the above cost estimate.

In determining that there is no cost for the annual implementation of these regulations and no cost for compliance with these regulations, the State Board of Indigents' Defense Services acknowledges that the assigned counsel law firms, as local businesses, will not be required to file additional motions with the court to determine that the facts of a case or the work required on a case is not "exceptional" and does not require additional court review.

A public hearing was scheduled on June 15, 2018, however there were no attendees.

Prior to the submission or resubmission of the proposed rule(s) and regulation(s), did the agency hold a public hearing if the total implementation and compliance costs exceed $3.0 million over any two-year period to find that the estimated costs have been accurately determined and are necessary for achieving legislative intent? If applicable, document when the public hearing was held, those in attendance, and any pertinent information from the hearing.
