

Reports Associated with the 2010 T-Works Program

Legislative committees. In 2008, the Special Committee on a New Comprehensive Transportation Plan, seven senators and nine representatives, was directed to study the need for a new comprehensive transportation plan. It conducted hearings in Topeka, Wichita, Overland Park, Garden City, and Pittsburg and concluded such a plan was necessary. Its report, which includes a summary of all the testimony received, is available here [\[PDF link\]](#).

The 2008 Joint Committee on Economic Development studied the economic impact of a new comprehensive transportation plan and found KDOT including future economic value of projects in its analyses. Its report is available here [\[PDF link\]](#). The report includes a summary of cost-benefit analyses of selected projects 1995-2004.

The 2009 Special Committee on Transportation, which included 7 senators and 11 representatives, further studied options for additional funding for transportation. Its report is available here [\[PDF link\]](#).